Larry Jacobsen

Greetings, boss! This might be the record shortest status report ever.

- Budget Adoption
- Miscellaneous

Heritage Days!

Nibley's town celebration seems to get bigger and better every year, and last week's Heritage Days was a blast. Many, many thanks to all the citizen volunteers and city staff who made possible the 2023 installment of Heritage Days. We have a terrific community, and Heritage Days gives us a chance to celebrate and be proud of our community.

Budget Adoption

During our June 8 meeting, the Nibley City Council adopted next year's budget. Justin Maughan, Nibley City Manager, along with Amy Johnson, Nibley Treasurer, and all the department heads did a great job of preparing the budget. The council had great conversations that covered a range of topics from broad policy deliberations to detailed discussions of departmental expenses. As a Nibley citizen, you can be assured that the city revenues and expenses are carefully and thoughtfully forecasted and monitored with fiscal responsibility. If you haven't looked at Nibley's budget, I encourage you to do so.

Miscellaneous

The Nibley City Staff continues to work on improved methods for code enforcement, we met with a new investor about a potential development on US 89-91, and the staff continued working with the Utah Property Rights Ombudsman's Office for the purchase of property to move forward with developing 1200 West.
